

SMALLS FOR ALL

Come on ladies YOU can make a difference today

We hope that you can help in this in grass roots project that will help African girls and women towards a brighter future.

It's so simple, we all have bra's in drawers that will not be seeing the light of day again!

They can be old, hardly worn, new!

Smalls for All is a UK based charity that send unwanted bras to African villages to improve hygiene and prevent the rape of young girls as wearing a bra in some villages is a sign of wealth, status and power.

If the bra is too tatty they recycle the material and metal to raise money to buy these young girls new knickers as some of the girls only have one pair and others have non whatsoever. So if you're throwing out your old bras, please add to our collection here instead:

Why not drop off some 'new' knickers to us as well to one of our collection points
